This instruction booklet has been prepared for your use in an effort to make the commencement exercises as enjoyable as possible. We suggest that you read all instructions carefully. Please see one of the line marshals if you have any questions.

Proper Respect for the American Flag

When the color guard marches from the Abraham O. Smoot Administration Building past those assembled for the processional, proper respect should be shown to the American flag as follows:

Male students should stand and bare their heads as the flag approaches, holding their caps in their right hands over their hearts. Female students should also stand at attention when the flag passes, placing their right hands over their hearts.

When the colors are carried into the Marriott Center, all students should arise and place their right hands over their hearts, male students bearing their heads. When the colors are posted, students may then be seated.

Academic Procession

All candidates for graduation should assemble at designated areas in the parking lots located north of the Smoot Administration Building by 3:30 p.m. (Please see map on page 2). Programs will be provided for each candidate at the Marriott Center. Please retain your program and take it with you to your college convocation on Friday.

Candidates for graduate degrees are to line up on the pavement west of the fountain on the north side of the Smoot Administration Building (line 3). Doctoral candidates must be in alphabetical order. Juris doctorate, master's, and other graduate degree candidates need not be in alphabetical order.

Candidates for bachelor's degrees and associate degrees are to form lines in the parking lots north of the Smoot Administration Building, according to college. It will not be necessary for candidates to line up alphabetically.

The board of trustees, color guard, deans, directors, and special guests will assemble in the designated area immediately north of the Smoot Administration Building (line 6). The remainder of the faculty will gather on the sidewalks east and west of the Smoot Administration Building.

Rainy-Day Schedule

Should it rain and be too wet to line up outside, all faculty and graduates are requested to be in their designated seating areas inside the Marriott Center by 4:15 p.m. (Please see map of Marriott Center on page 4.)

Maneuvering the steps in the Marriott Center may be dangerous while wearing the gown. Descend the steps carefully; and when the rainy-day schedule is in effect, don't put on your cap and gown until you have reached your designated seat.

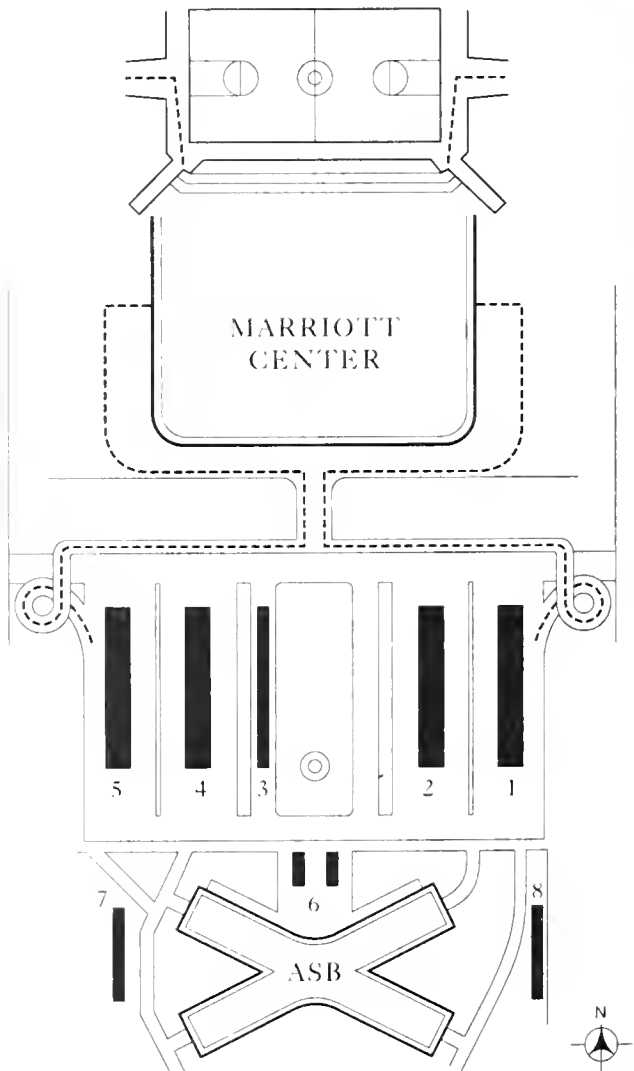

Order of March

The academic procession will begin promptly at 3:45 p.m. The color guard, board of trustees, deans, directors, and special guests will move first, forming double lines and marching up the east and west ramps toward the Marriott Center.

Associate deans, assistant deans, and faculty will form double lines and file in directly behind the special guests on both the east and west ramps. Both lines will march parallel underneath the archway, after which the faculty procession will stop to allow the color guard and others to stand in prearranged positions. The lines will then separate and form the reviewing lines on both sides of the walks leading into the Marriott Center.

Line of March

1. Physical Education

Sciences
6. Color Guard, Board of Trustees, Deans, Directors, and Special Guests
- 7, 8. Associate Deans,
Assistant Deans,
and Faculty

Immediately behind the faculty will be the doctoral and master's degree candidates; they will form a single line and march parallel with the undergraduate candidates up the ramp northwest of the Smoot Administration Building then into the Marriott Center to be seated on the playing floor.

The bachelor's and associate degree candidates will march two columns abreast. Those in lines 1 and 2 will proceed up the ramp northeast of the Smoot Administration Building, and those in lines 4 and 5 will proceed up the ramp northwest of the Smoot Administration Building. The candidates will enter the Marriott Center and be seated as shown on the map on page 4. Line marshals will assist in the lining up and seating of candidates.

Procedure in Awarding Degrees

Academic Vice President Todd A. Britsch will ask the candidates to arise by degree (doctoral, master's, bachelor's, and associate). They will remain standing until President Lee has conferred the degrees and has asked them to be seated.

Recessional

The recessional begins immediately following the benediction.

Graduates will remain seated until the dignitaries have left the stand. All graduates will then rise at the same time. Graduates seated in the chair seats will exit by rows, going up the stairs and out the portals beginning from the back rows. Commencement line marshals will direct those seated on the playing floor to exit through the east portals.

Caps, Gowns, and Hoods

All candidates should position their tassels on the left side of the academic caps. Only male candidates should remove their caps for prayers. All rented caps, gowns, and hoods will be collected at the conclusion of the convocations on Friday. Candidates may keep their tassels.

All associate degree tassels should be black in color. The tassel color for bachelor's degree candidates should be white for the bachelor of arts degree, yellow for the bachelor of science degree, brown for the bachelor of fine arts degree, pink for the bachelor of music degree, and white for the bachelor of independent studies degree. Only female candidates receiving the associate or bachelor's degree should wear a white collar.

The tassel color for all master's degree candidates corresponds with the velvet on the hood. Candidates for master's degrees should wear their hoods during both commencement and convocation exercises. Female master's degree candidates do not wear the white collar.

The tassel color for all doctoral degrees is gold. Doctoral degree candidates will receive their hoods at the commencement exercises. Female doctoral degree candidates do not wear the white collar. Juris doctor candidates should pick up their hoods at the Alumni House.

University Dress and Grooming Standards

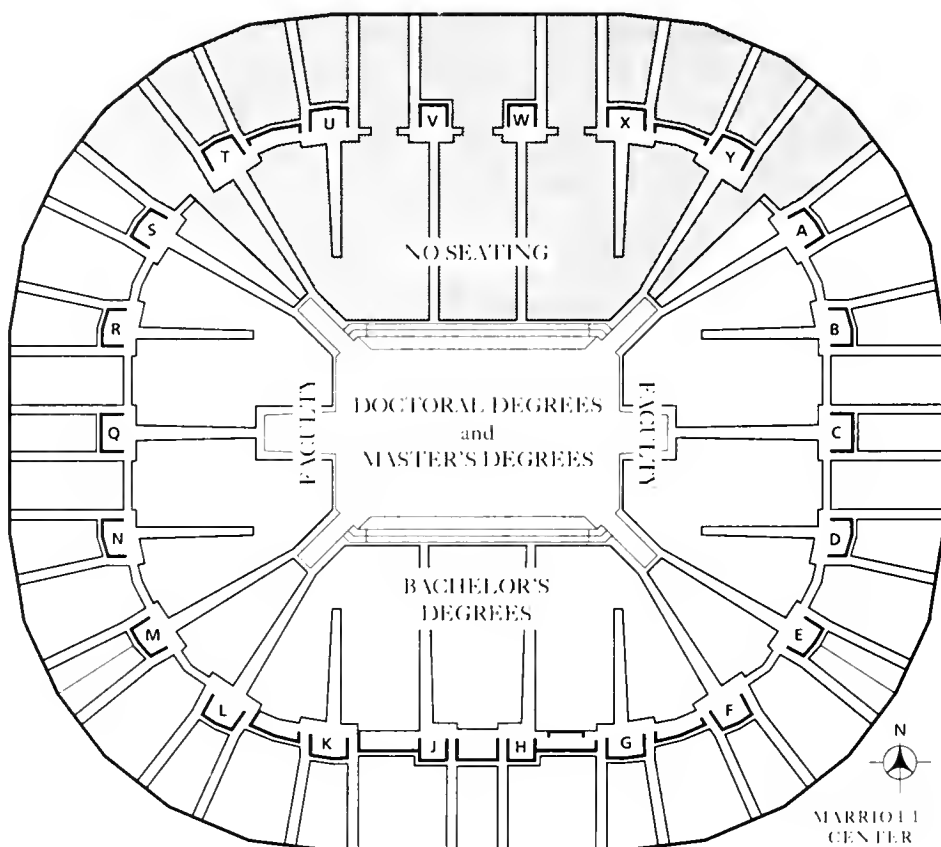

All candidates participating in commencement are expected to conform to Brigham Young University's standards of dress and grooming, whether the candidate is a current BYU student or a former student returning to receive his or her degree.

It is recommended that male graduates wear dark-colored shoes. Women should wear street-length dresses and should not wear flowers or leis. Low-heeled shoes are recommended for the processional march.

Note: During the exercises, applause is appropriate after speeches, music, and awarding of degrees.

Rainy-Day Seating Instructions

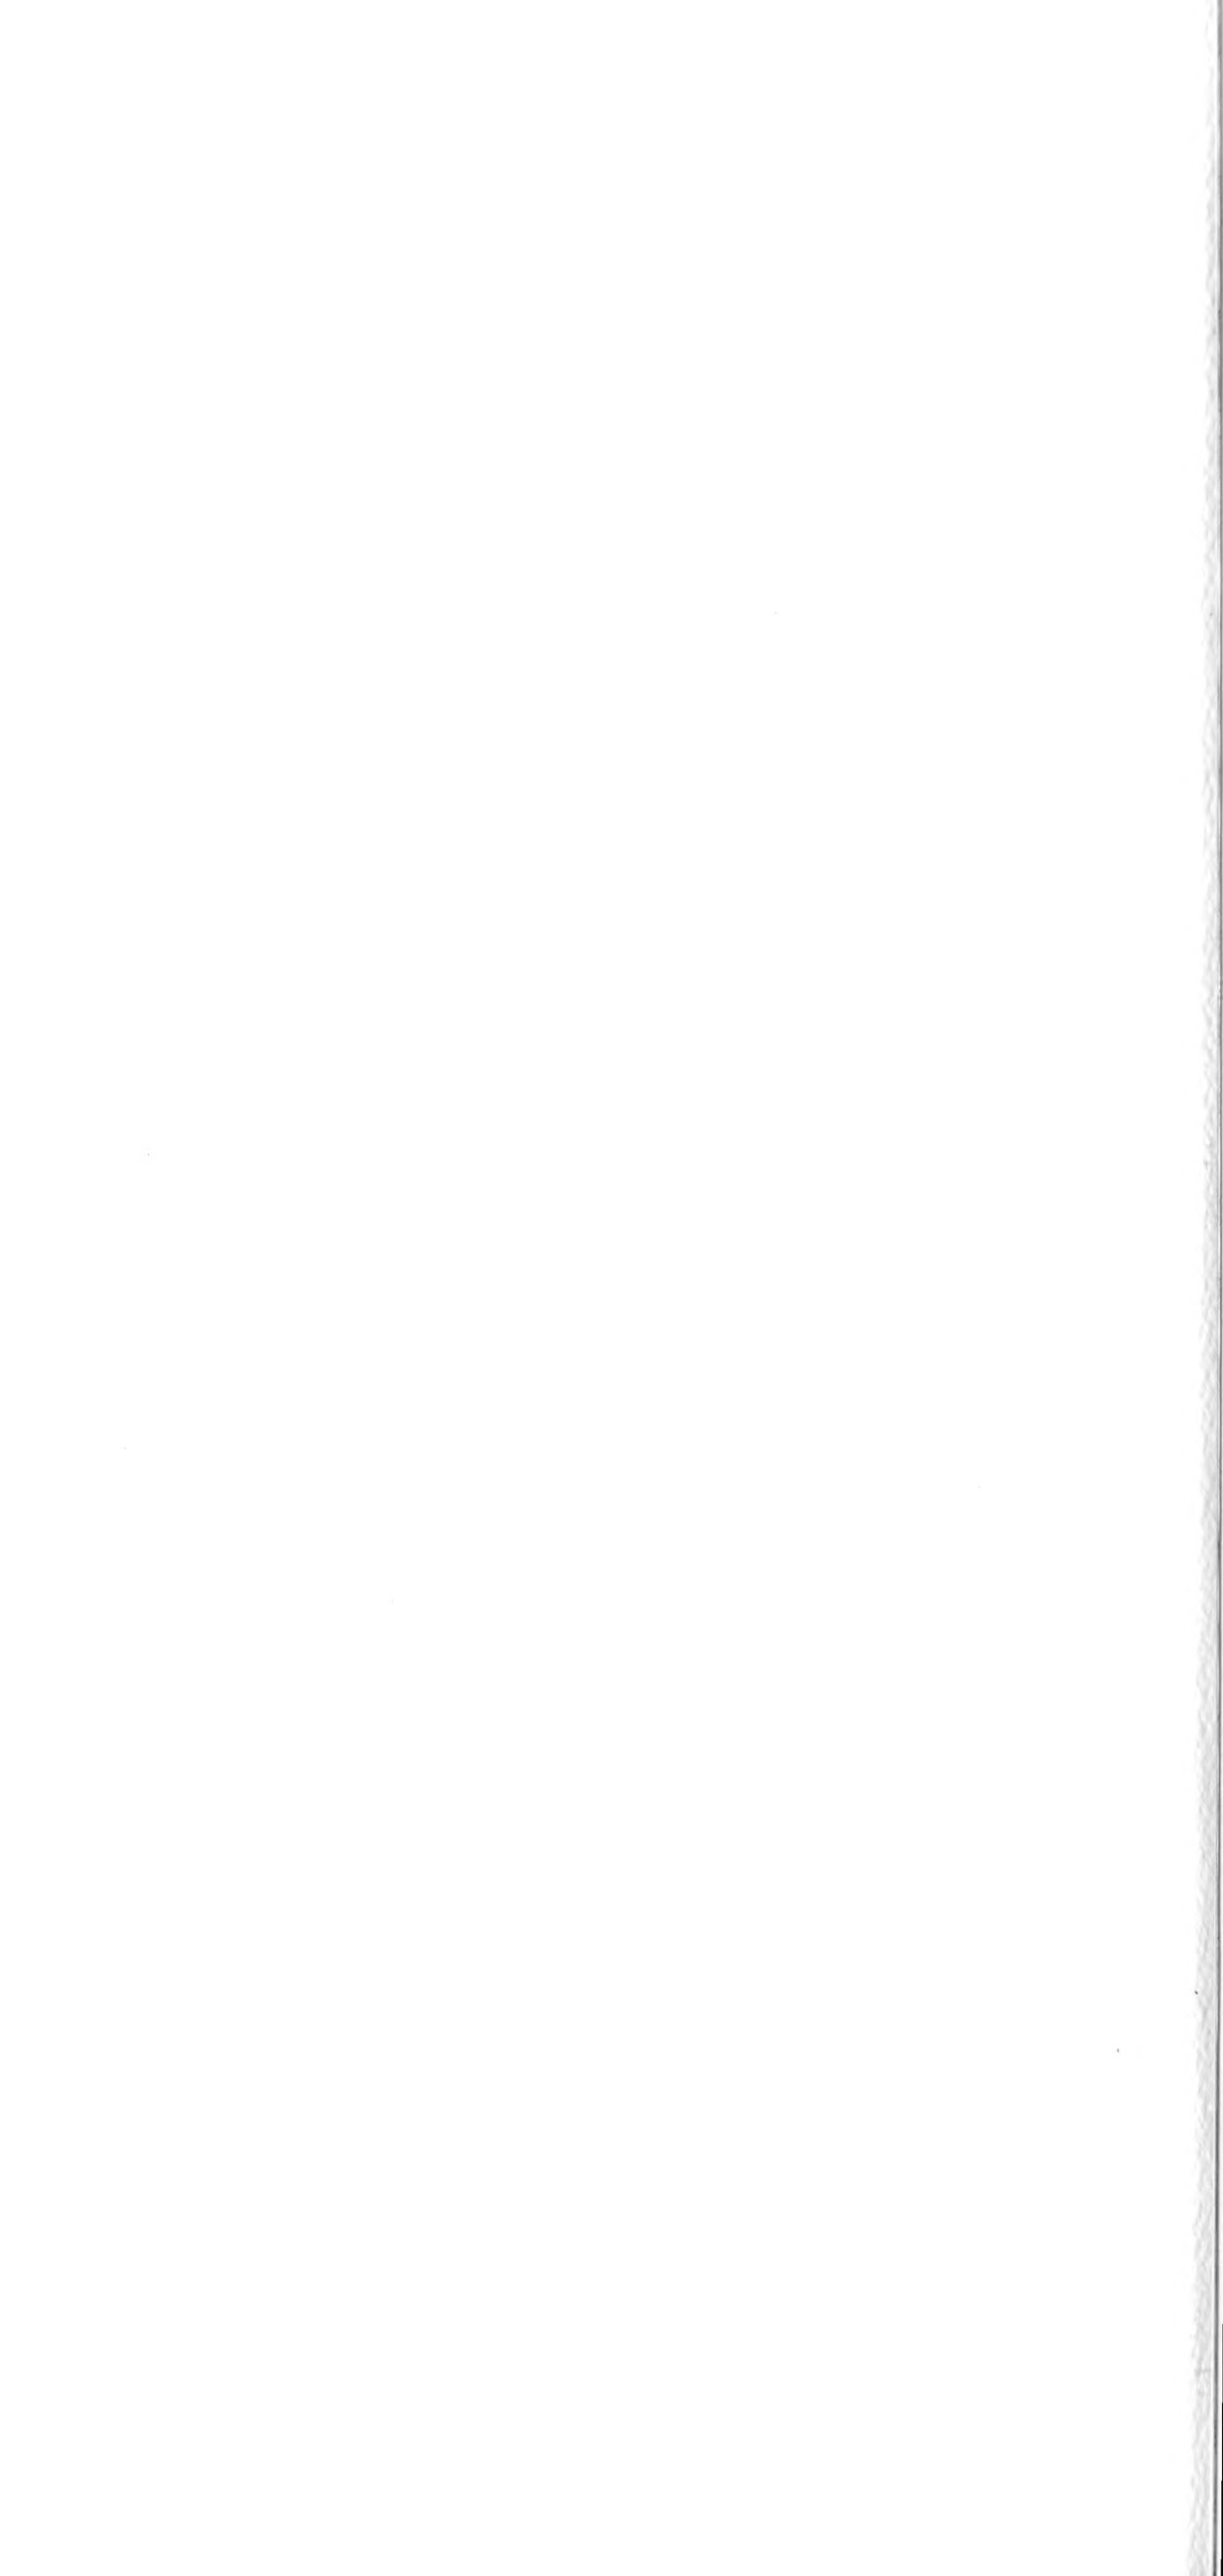

All faculty and graduates will go directly to the designated areas no later than 4:15 p.m.
Enter seating area through portals F-L.

Significance of the Academic Costume

The significance of the academic costume is determined especially by the sleeves and hoods.

Doctors wear the round bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may choose to wear the gold tassel on the cap.

Masters wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part of the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

Bachelors wear the long or pointed sleeve. The color of the tassel indicates whether the degree is in the field of arts (white), fine arts (brown), music (pink), or science (golden yellow).

HONORARY DOCTORAL DEGREE

Marion D. Hanks

Father, friend, teacher, mentor, civic servant, exemplar of Christian virtue, Marion D. Hanks is richly deserving of the degree of Doctor of Christian Service. Throughout a long and brilliant career of service focused on youth, Elder Hanks has maintained a common touch that has enabled him to reach an amazing array of individuals: seminary and institute students and colleagues, ordinary Church members and General Authorities, LDS Boy Scouts and those of other faiths, national Scout leaders, presidential commissioners, conservatives and liberals, soldiers and conscientious objectors, theologians and scholars from east to west, and children of all ages.

Born the youngest of a family of seven in 1921, he very early experienced a loss that was destined to shape his entire life. Without warning his father, Stanley A. Hanks, was stricken with a critical illness. As he wavered between life and death the little family knelt in prayer, seeking the Lord's blessing in restoring their father to his rightful patriarchal position in rearing those young and choice spirits.

In the face of fatalistic medical opinion that gave no hope, his mother prayed fervently for her husband's recovery. Those prayers alone seemed to sustain life, although there was no improvement in his condition. Both father and mother acknowledged it was the power of her faith that kept him clinging to life.

In a final exchange between the parents, Marion's mother understood that she alone was retaining her husband's spirit while the Lord had important work for him to do. Stanley then asked her to release his spirit. In sweet acceptance—despite her wishes and the needs of her children—she prayed that the Lord's will and not her own be done. As she uttered those words, his spirit passed.

As his mother raised her children to maturity without the blessing or benefit of husband, father, or breadwinner in the home, she imparted to them lessons that were to shape young Marion's spiritual perspective and establish a direction for his lifetime work. With his mother he acknowledged that the Lord's will must be done, painful as that personally might be. But with that knowledge came an appreciation of the power of faith-filled prayer—a revelation of the process of interaction with the Lord in which, despite his will, the Lord will listen and allow his hand to be stayed. His mother's remarkable example likewise gave him the maturity of spirit to comprehend God's will, to bow to that will without bitterness or complaint, to come to acceptance, and to move on. That exchange gave him an appreciation of a very personal God involved in his everyday concerns.

His own loss gave him a tremendous depth of compassion for the young and their needs. His heartfelt desire was to bind up, to heal, to serve, to father, to mentor, to nurture, to hold out the vision of hope that all things are possible.

An opening in the seminary program two years after his mission experience provided a perfect opportunity to assist youth in catching that vision, placing him in an ideal position to share their concerns at a critical time in their lives and to help them believe in themselves and come to realize the glories and joys that could be theirs.

Elder Hanks has been a remarkable teacher throughout his lifetime. At a testimonial in 1986 he was cited along with fellow teachers Lowell Bennion, T. Edgar Lyon, and George Boyd as “the finest religion faculty the Church has ever had.” Though certainly among the best educated, brightest, and most articulate religion teachers the Church has ever produced, their great contribution came through their consistent example of Christian living.

His remarkable career as a seminary teacher and youth leader was in no way diverted when he was called to the First Quorum of the Seventy in October 1953, just nine days before his thirty-second birthday, younger than any had been so called since the earliest decades of the century. With that call, and at President David O. McKay’s specific instruction, he continued as the first General Authority to teach institute, which he did from 1950 to 1970. And he has continued to teach—in every calling and on every level and in every discourse.

The empathy he felt for his mother in her heroic efforts to provide for her family extended to others who struggled with life’s challenges. Motivated by his desire to intercede in behalf of others, he studied the law, qualifying him further for an advocacy position. Attorney Hanks united his efforts with the Lord in watching out for the downtrodden, the unfortunate, the mistreated; he encouraged all to be everything they could possibly be and then held up their arms, supported them, and argued their cases before the very bar of heaven.

As president and district governor of Rotary, his motto has been “service above self.” As the Church’s Area Supervisor in Southeast Asia in the early 1980s he promoted nonproselyting Christian service by missionaries and volunteers in refugee camps in Thailand and Hong Kong and the Philippines, before the Churchwide fasts and humanitarian efforts of recent years. Stationed in Hong Kong, pivotal city between East and West where two very opposite points of view were brought together into one in the gospel, Elder Hanks was able through his love and Christian service to bridge those differences and initiate important pioneering efforts in refugee services by the Church in several Asian countries.

His efforts to serve others are typified by his work as an executive member in programs for the Boy Scouts of America, the President's Citizens' Advisory Committee on Children and Youth established by President Eisenhower, and a similar committee on fitness under the administrations of John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Gerald Ford, and Jimmy Carter. Thus he established the remarkable record of serving under five U.S. presidents in the cause of fitness. In 1978 he was presented the Distinguished Service Award of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports in recognition of outstanding contributions to the national program of physical fitness and sports.

He is one of few Mormons to receive the very highest Scouting awards: the Silver Beaver, the Silver Antelope, the Order of the Arrow, and, in 1973, the first honorary Award of the National Eagle Scout Association "in recognition of his distinguished service to Scouting." In May of 1988, for his service on the National Executive Board, he was awarded the Boy Scouts of America's highest honor, the Silver Buffalo. His citation reads: "The youth of America could ask for no greater advocate."

Elder Hanks has been not only a great advocate for youth but one of their great examples. It is significant that the many young people under his mission leadership recognized in his service to the Lord the truth expressed in John 14:9 that "he that hath seen me hath seen the Father." In Elder Hanks they saw such an integration that there was no real distinction between the things of the Lord and the things of Marion D. Hanks. His challenges to them helped them define themselves—leading them to witness the power within and giving them the confidence to realize their potential. It is in their lives we witness the purest form of tribute.

He became the model for an entire generation of missionaries. They emulated his style; they assimilated his values; they adopted his delivery, his vocabulary, and even his stories. His richly vibrant voice, his language—mellifluous and eloquent, witty and urbane—and the touching experience at the heart of each tale has moved to tears those who have heard him speak.

Elder Hanks was given General Authority Emeritus status at the October 1992 general conference after thirty-nine years of service. Next to the prophet, there is no living General Authority who has served as long. He now serves as chair of the board of the Ouelessebougou Mali-Utah alliance, a group that since 1985 has supported a fourfold program of community service for a consortium of villages in Mali, West Africa. He also serves as chair of International Enterprise Development Foundation, an organization involved in a major undertaking to assist people in the Philippines and other third-world countries in establishing small business and other economic improvement efforts. A Marion D. Hanks and Maxine C. Hanks Foundation has been established by friends to provide economic and service help for efforts like those already mentioned. Elder Hanks continues to serve on the National Advisory Board of Boy Scouts of America and on two national committees, working with non-LDS leaders.

The focus of a lifetime of Christian service was ever to be putting his Heavenly Father's will before his own. Certainly this single most important truth, which a father or mother could only hope to impart in a lifetime, was embedded in Marion in his youth. Behind his actions lies the influence of his angel mother; beside him ever has been his beloved wife, Maxine. He has been likewise supported by his son and four daughters and his twenty-three grandchildren. His family gave much so that he might bless the entire Church—and beyond.

There are thousands all over the world whose lives have been touched and shaped by the influence and service of Marion D. Hanks. As students, as Boy Scouts, as Rotarians, as wartime refugees, as priesthood leaders, as missionaries, as members of the Church, they have heard his voice, they have known his love, they have recognized the father in him, and they have been richly blessed. It is indeed fitting that he should be acknowledged for his lifetime of service. In token of appreciation Brigham Young University is proud to award to Marion D. Hanks the degree of Doctor of Christian Service, honoris causa.

PRESIDENTIAL CITATION

Eugene Jelesnik

Czarist Russia seems an unlikely place to find the roots of a man who would become an appreciated and influential force in the musical life of Salt Lake City—and one of Utah's most decorated citizens. The Ukrainian town of Alexandrovsk was the home of the prosperous and wealthy Jelesnikoff family. In 1914 son Shura was born to Jacob and Jenny Jelesnikoff, and at an early age he began studying the violin at his parents' bidding. Through the instruction of a good teacher, and the support and admiration of proud parents, the talented young lad flourished in his musical development.

About this time, tumultuous events produced disastrous results for the family: In 1917 the October Revolution swept the country, eventually bringing turmoil and ruin to the Jelesnikoffs. Their resplendent mansion and all of their possessions were confiscated, and the family found it necessary to rent a room in their own home under an assumed name in order to have a place to live and to avoid being killed in the unraveling, unstable conditions.

The turbulent treatment by revolutionary forces is thought to have precipitated the fatal heart attack of father Jacob, and so mother Jenny and son Shura, who was not yet ten years old, escaped first to Germany and finally to New York, where they settled in 1925. In New York the family name was Americanized to Jelesnik, and Shura became Eugene.

Enrolled in the public schools of his newly adopted country, Eugene became known to members of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra because of his considerable musical gifts. The orchestra awarded him a scholarship to study music theory with one of its members, Winthrop Sergeant, who later became the music critic for The New Yorker magazine. Private violin study with another member of the philharmonic was included in the scholarship, and this training made a profound and lasting impression on his musical progress.

Eugene felt a great debt to his beloved mother, who worked long hours in a factory to keep him in school and assist him with his needs beyond those covered in his scholarships. Her support, devotion, and struggles caused him to change the direction of his career as a promising concert violinist, where financial success still lay years ahead. Indeed, he loved the great musical works for violin and masterpieces of symphonic literature, but he chose to become a violinist in popular music groups, where financial stability for his mother and himself would be assured and more readily attainable.

First he appeared for two years as violin soloist at the Hollywood Restaurant on Broadway. Soon he formed his own dance orchestra, the Continentals, and toured the eastern United States. While playing in New York, Eugene was approached by his manager, who had received a request from the Hotel Utah to engage an orchestra from out of the state. Eugene's persistence and persuasive powers finally convinced his New York musicians to leave the city for a two-week run at the Hotel Utah. Those two weeks blossomed into ten months.

Much to his surprise and delight, he developed and nourished two love affairs during his engagement in Salt Lake: one with the city and state, and the other with a young woman from California, who just happened to be attending a convention in Salt Lake City. Both love affairs became permanent sources of happiness. In spite of his artistic and imaginative skills as a violinist, composer, and leader, when the beautiful Virginia Belle Washburn walked into the hotel, he introduced himself with the oldest, most used, and suspicious introductory line in romantic history, "Pardon me, Miss, but haven't we met before?" Fortunately for Eugene, Virginia had seen him performing in a New York restaurant on a visit she had previously made there. Within a short time she consented to marry Eugene in Salt Lake in July 1938 and remained by his side for fifty-four years until she passed away last year.

Although the young couple returned to New York shortly after their marriage, during which time he undertook one of his nineteen USO tours, they came back to settle in Salt Lake in 1945 in response to a request that he direct the live orchestra at one of Salt Lake's radio stations. With the arrival of television, Eugene produced his popular weekly TV program "Talent Showcase," which ran for more than three decades, and on which nearly 10,000 talented young Utahns were given early public exposure, including the Osmonds. Senator John F. Kennedy served as a guest host of the program with Eugene and later, as president of the United States, sent Eugene a letter of appreciation for the JFK March that composer Jelesnik had written and that became one of Eugene's most popular concert selections.

Eugene Jelesnik has done much for the enjoyment and morale of citizens of this nation and state. In an executive citation declaring March 17, 1989, Eugene Jelesnik Day in the state of Utah, Governor Norman Bangerter wrote, in part, "Mr. Jelesnik gave liberally of his time, talent, and energy to the USO, organizing and leading tours of entertainers to frontline areas during three wars in order to build the morale of U.S. military personnel, for which he was awarded a Silver Medal Citation, a Bronze Medal, and one of the nation's highest civilian awards, the Civilian Service Award Ribbon."

He served as chair of the National USO Shows Committee and as a member of the USO Board of Governors. Eugene gave patriotic service because he felt he owed a debt "for the privilege of being an American." Among his other numerous citations, medals, plaques, and awards are three decorations for his civilian service and the George Washington Honor Medal, awarded him by the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge. He has served as a member and officer on both boards governing the Utah State Fair and the Days of '47 Rodeo.

As permanent conductor of the Salt Lake Philharmonic Orchestra for more than forty years, he continues to lead his musicians in annual free pops concerts for audiences sometimes numbering as many as 10,000 people to celebrate seasonal events such as LDS general conference, the Twenty-fourth of July, Labor Day, and Thanksgiving.

Members of his Salt Lake orchestra are loyal and devoted to him and frequently praise his kindness. One said, "He treats his musicians with affection and respect and loyalty . . . and brings good music to everybody," and another added, "Eugene Jelesnik is truly a gentleman and a gentle man."

At a reception at KSL-TV, President Thomas S. Monson of the First Presidency of the LDS Church spoke highly of Jelesnik's quiet impact on the community. Quipped President Monson, "He is the only person I know who has complete access to the Church Administration Building. But I admire Eugene for other reasons, too. He notices the unnoticed and befriends those who are in need of a friend."

In the 1993 general session, the Utah state senate passed a resolution honoring Eugene, noting he has made "incalculable contributions to the musical culture of the state of Utah and its citizens, and remains a warm, active, and kind friend of Utah and its people." The resolution praised "his decades of service enriching the lives of Utahns through his love of music."

Brigham Young University is proud to honor Eugene Jelesnik with this Presidential Citation and Medallion for his love of Utah and his selfless efforts in recognizing and developing the musical talent and appreciation of its citizens.

Korman Williams King

BS, Brigham Young University, 1991
 Major: Animal Science
 Thesis: Optimal Calving Interval for Utah Holsteins: A Simulation

Douglas Craig Kohlert

BS, Brigham Young University, 1990
 Major: Computer Science
 Thesis: MAGIC: Malleable Graphical Applications

John L Larsen

BS, Brigham Young University, 1986
 Major: Statistics
 Thesis: Using the Decomposition of the Contribution of a New Variable to Wilk's Lambda in Visualizing the Effect of Wilks' Lambda on Stepwise Discriminant Analysis

Lance K. Lewis

BS, Brigham Young University, 1992
 Major: Mechanical Engineering
 Thesis: A Second Order, Non-normal
 Statistical Tolerance Model for Robust
 Optimal Design

Jie Liu

Major: Mathematics
 Thesis: Numerical Treatment of the Cahn-Hilliard Equation (1D) with Non-local Boundary Conditions

Nancy Elizabeth Long-Foster

BS, Ohio State University, 1962
 Major: Nursing
 Thesis: Self-Activation of Fields of Energy with the Intent to Change Them

Mark Douglas Loucks

BS, Brigham Young University, 1987
 Major: Geology
 Thesis: Ground-Water Flow Systems in the Central Wasatch Range, Utah

David Dean Luke

BS, Brigham Young University, 1991
 Major: Electrical Engineering

Stephen Donald Marks

BS, Brigham Young University, 1992
 Major: Civil Engineering

David R. McLean

BS, Brigham Young University, 1986
 Major: Civil Engineering

Susan Olivia Mecham

 Project: Secondary Level Classroom Activities
 on the Human Body Systems

Daniel Christopher Mikat

BMu, University of Miami, 1988
 Major: Electrical Engineering

John Kenneth Miller

BS, University of Arizona, 1983
 Major: Managerial Economics

David Marion Murphy

BS, Brigham Young University, 1992
 Major: Civil Engineering

Mark Callister Oettli

BS, Brigham Young University, 1990
 Major: Mechanical Engineering
 Thesis: Analysis of Gas and Particle
 Composition in a Full-Scale Utility Power Station

Michael N. Olpin

BS, Brigham Young University, 1988
 Major: Health Sciences
 Thesis: The Relationship of Subliminal
 Relaxation Affirmations and the Degree of Relaxation Achieved

Robin Lynn Ploeger

BSh, Ohio University, 1990
 Major: Exercise Science and Athletic Training
 Thesis: The Effects of Three Selected
 Training Programs on Shoulder External Rotation Strength, Flexibility, and Throwing Velocity in Collegiate Baseball
 Players

Shari Suzanne Probst

BS, Brigham Young University, 1990
 Major: Marriage and Family Therapy
 Thesis: Differences Between Marital Couples
 Who Stay Together and Those Who Divorce Following Extra-marital Involvement

Deana June Thornock Richmond

BS, Brigham Young University, 1988
 Major: Mathematics
 Minor: Spanish

Stephanie Jane Rimington

BS, Brigham Young University, 1990
 Major: Exercise Science and Athletic Training
 Thesis: The Influence of Therapeutic Ultrasound on Temperature Rise in the Precooled Gastrocnemius Muscle of Humans

Brett E. Robbins

BS, Weber State College, 1989
 Major: Nursing
 Thesis: Factors Influencing Emergency
 Department Utilization for Nonurgent
 Care Between Native Americans of the Ute
 Indian Tribe and Others at Duchesne
 County Hospital

Camron Boyd Rust

BS, Memphis State University, 1990

BACCALAUREATE DEGREES

All degrees are awarded by the university. Baccalaureate degree recipients are listed here by college and major for convenience in identifying each graduate's area of study.

Graduates with University Honors

The following graduates have met the requirements for the university's highest graduation distinction. Typically, they have completed at least six honors general education courses, maintained a 3.5 GPA or higher in both honors and all other courses, demonstrated proficiency in mathematics and a foreign language, completed a required reading list, and written an honors thesis.

Significance of the Academic Costume

The significance of the academic costume is determined especially by the sleeves and hoods.

Doctors wear the round bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may choose to wear the gold tassel on the cap.

Masters wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part of the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

Bachelors wear the long or pointed sleeve. The color of the tassel indicates whether the degree is in the field of arts (white), fine arts (brown), music (pink), or science (golden yellow).

Elder L. Tom Perry would rather have the spotlight of attention pointed at someone else because he has always felt more comfortable honoring others than being honored. Knowing the innate goodness of this man, we can be quite certain that he would protest, except for his concern that others might think he is protesting too much . . . and so he is left somewhat speechless, his booming voice quieted for a moment.

To save Elder Perry from this Gordian knot of the tongue it is important that instead of the honor we emphasize the message the honor conveys—which is an incredibly simple message: “We love and appreciate you for your warm handshake, your cheers of support at BYU football and basketball games, your leadership, and your many acts of Christian service.”

Lowell Tom Perry was born August 5, 1922, in Logan, Utah, to Leslie Thomas Perry and Nora Sonne Perry. His father served as bishop for the first eighteen years of young Tom’s life, and his mother was a counselor in the ward Relief Society presidency the entire time he lived at home. Bishop and Sister Perry’s tenures included the Great Depression. Many afternoons Tom would come home from school excited to play with his friends, then see the family car filled with sacks of flour, sugar, and other commodities. He knew immediately that his carefree afternoon was about to be interrupted by a call to serve the less fortunate. Unlike most young boys, Tom looked forward to these opportunities to assist his parents and be of service to others. He knew that a small sacrifice on his part would bring much-needed relief to many who were suffering anguish of body and spirit. He was always impressed by the satisfied looks on his parents’ faces as they thanked him when the job was finally completed.

After graduating from high school, L. Tom Perry attended a year of college before he was called to serve in the Northern States Mission in 1942. Lowell Durham, Sr., a former professor in the Department of Music at the University of Utah, was a member of the branch presidency in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, when he first met Elder Perry and his companion. He said about that experience:

There were no missionaries during our first months in Iowa. Then, as we awaited meeting time in the old Roosevelt Hotel one Sunday, in strode two giants who loomed six feet four inches into the stratosphere above the small band of Saints. This was our introduction to Elder Tom Perry and his companion, Elder Clayton Wilkinson. Not only did Elder Perry impress us with his physical stature, but he immediately found a place in the hearts of all for his forthrightness, enthusiasm, naturalness, and obvious honesty and conviction for what he was doing.

Six weeks after returning from his mission, L. Tom Perry was drafted into the armed services. He volunteered for duty in the Marine Corps and was among the first occupation troops to enter Japan. While on the island of Saipan, located in the Pacific, he and his companions built a small chapel. Later, in Nagasaki, he touched the hearts of a congregation of Japanese people when he led a group of servicemen in rebuilding a Protestant chapel. When they were transferred to Sasebo, over 100 members of that congregation lined up along the railroad tracks and, as the train passed, touched hands with Sergeant Perry and his companions to show their gratitude.

Following his release from the military, L. Tom Perry finished his schooling at Utah State University and graduated in business in 1949. During that time he courted Virginia Lee, daughter of John E. and Hattie Reeder Lee of Hyde Park, Utah. They were married in the Logan Temple on July 18, 1947. Three children were born to L. Tom and Virginia Perry: Barbara (now deceased), who married Terry Haws; Lee, who married Carolyn Bench; and Linda Gay, who married Michael Nelson. Sister Perry passed away in December 1974.

Elder Perry married Barbara Dayton, the oldest of eight children of S. Reed and Lois Taylor Dayton, in April 1976. She grew up on a ranch near Cokeville, Wyoming, and graduated from the University of Utah with a BS degree in nursing. She worked at LDS Hospital in Salt Lake City for fifteen years before attending BYU and completing her master's degree in health education. Sister Perry taught at the BYU College of Nursing for four years previous to her marriage to Elder Perry.

Describing Elder Perry's professional and Church accomplishments is complicated by two factors. First, he vastly prefers sharing credit because he believes that very little is ever accomplished by a single individual. Second, he believes that a person's contributions are measured better by how well he or she does something than by how many things he or she has done. If there is a theme to Elder Perry's life of accomplishment and service, it is this: He enthusiastically does what he is asked to do and what needs to be done, and in the course of fulfilling his many responsibilities he always finds a way to render significant acts of Christian service.

L. Tom Perry's business career began in 1951 with the C. C. Anderson Company of Allied Stores, Inc., where he worked as both an internal auditor and controller of the Lewiston, Idaho, store. He joined Broadway-Hale, Inc., in 1953 and became controller of the Sacramento, California, store. In 1962 he moved to New York, where he became controller of Associated Merchandising Corporation and vice president and secretary-treasurer of Aimcee Wholesale Corporation. He moved to Boston in 1966 to join Lechnere Sales Corporation, becoming the vice president of finance. In 1972 he worked briefly as the treasurer of R. H. Stearns, a Boston-based department store chain.

William T. French, former chair of the board of First National Stores, Inc., said of his former business associate, L. Tom Perry:

I would say that the principal difference between Tom Perry and anyone else with whom I was associated was his enthusiastic and continual demonstration of the Christian faith. He always knew that today's problems were relatively unimportant in the total scheme of things as he went about vigorously and joyously solving them.

Throughout his life, L. Tom Perry has served The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints valiantly and tirelessly as a counselor in two bishoprics, on two stake high councils, as a counselor in two stake presidencies, and as president of the Boston Stake. In October 1972 he was sustained as an Assistant to the Twelve. Then, in April 1974, he became a member of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles.

Elder Perry served as a member of the National Bicentennial Committee between 1974 and 1976, and he chaired the LDS Church Bicentennial Committee. Under the direction of the LDS Church Bicentennial Committee, members of the LDS Church performed over 14 million hours of volunteer community service.

Elder Perry represents the interests of the Church as a member of the board of directors of Zion's Bank Corporation and as vice chair of the board of ZCMI. He also has served for many years as a board member of American Stores Corporation, a Salt Lake-based food retailer.

Elder Perry currently serves as the chair of the Priesthood Executive Council of the LDS Church. Previously, for six and a half years, he served as the chair of the Church's Missionary Executive Council, during which time the Church's worldwide missionary force expanded from 31,800 to 48,100 missionaries, the number of missions grew from 192 to 280, and there were 1,784,000 convert baptisms.

Shortly before his death in 1966, Elder Perry's father completed his life history with some brief and revealing comments about his six children. He called his eldest daughter, Zada, "a brilliant child"; his next daughter, Gay, "a sweet child"; and his youngest daughter, Mignon, "a highly successful woman in her life's work." He called his second son, Theodore, "our genius." He observed that his youngest son, Robert, was "steadily advancing in his professional career." About his eldest son, Tom, his comments were surprisingly cryptic. The only thing he said was: "Tom has surprised us."

Today, as Elder L. Tom Perry surprises his father one more time, nobody else is surprised. The many organizations he has served have been leavened by his enthusiasm and his drive for continuous improvement. There are thousands of individuals all over the world whose lives have been touched and shaped by this great man. In acknowledgment of a lifetime of service to God, family, and country, Brigham Young University is proud to award to L. Tom Perry the degree of Doctor of Christian Service, honoris causa.

PRESIDENTIAL CITATION

Elaine Anderson Cannon

“Make It Memorable” is not only a Cannon family motto but also a commentary on how Elaine Anderson Cannon has chosen to live her life. Her admitted love for hard work, her enthusiasm for life, her boundless energy, and her dedication to the service of others have made her an influence for good in countless lives and settings.

Growing up in Salt Lake City, Elaine seemed to anticipate much of her life’s work even as a child. One of her favorite pastimes was to gather neighborhood friends to play “meeting”—meetings at which Elaine would give the talk, expounding and exhorting her listeners, real or imagined. Above all, Elaine learned an appreciation and sensitivity for the spiritual nature of life and other people. Once, in a burst of enthusiasm, Elaine decided to paint the family’s oleander tree and, thus, inadvertently killed it. From this experience Elaine learned a lasting lesson: “One cannot improve on God.” Reflecting upon this later, Elaine remarked, “A chair can be repainted to cover past damage, but a living, growing thing can be spoiled forever through witless tampering. And that goes for people as well as plants.”

Elaine entered the University of Utah as a sociology major in 1939 and began balancing an incredible load of activities that became her permanent lifestyle. President of the Associated Women Students, the Chi Omega sorority, and the University Ward’s YWMIA, she also found time to participate in several honor societies, join a vocal group, write for the university paper, hold a job, and be voted “Dream Girl” by a fraternity. This Dream Girl found her dream in Jim Cannon, a fellow student at the University of Utah. The two were married in the Salt Lake Temple on March 25, 1943, and Elaine received her degree two months later.

A prolific writer who has written approximately 30 books and contributed to many others, Elaine discovered her fascination with words early. In junior high Elaine helped develop a student paper. By the time she was in high school she had begun writing a column for the Salt Lake City Telegram. After three years with the Telegram, she began a twenty-five-year venture with the Deseret News as the author of a daily column oriented toward youth.

After a disappointing dating experience as a teen, Elaine once vowed she would dedicate her life to helping girls understand what really worked with boys. She may have changed her original resolve, but Elaine has invested much of her time, energy, and love toward the youth. In 1948 Elaine began producing her “Seminar for Sallies,” which later became “Seminar for Sallies and Sams,” due to the applicability to both young women and men. Designed around the theme of a back-to-school fashion show, the annual production featured skits and insights on topics of interest to teenagers. These annual events continued for nearly 25 years and spread from Salt Lake City to locations as far away as Boston and London.

A lifetime friend, Winnifred Jardine, once remarked, “Elaine won’t miss anything that’s exciting. She loves life and makes it fun for everybody around her. Her charisma intrigues and fascinates everyone. All eyes are drawn to her in any kind of group. Yet she never comes to anything empty-handed; she always contributes to every good time.” Perhaps it was this boundless energy for contributing that allowed Elaine to juggle so many activities including organizing and hosting her own television show, working as a freelance reporter for Seventeen and Better Homes and Gardens, and opening a fabric shop. As the national advisor to women for the LDS Student Association, Elaine helped establish an LDS sorority for college-age women, Lambda Delta Sigma. She served in many YWMIA ward and stake presidencies, on the YWMIA general board, and on the Church’s correlation and instructional development committees. She also found time to write lessons for Gospel Doctrine and Relief Society manuals, organize productions for June conference, and participate in the leadership of the Church’s American Bicentennial Committee and the Church’s sesquicentennial celebration.

Despite her busy schedule, Elaine never lost sight of her priorities. The mother of six children, two boys and four girls, Elaine was ever the teacher and nurturer, bringing stability and love to those closest to her heart. Commenting on this, Elaine reflects, “I think the Lord knew I could be trusted to keep my family first. You can’t maintain a heavy schedule unless your heart is in the right place or you’ll end up with broken hearts.” She kept up with her daily newspaper column by writing it at 4:00 a.m. each morning so that it would be done in time for the baby’s 6:00 a.m. feeding.

Elaine’s keen sense of creativity and love of beauty always allowed the family to see the joy and brightness of life. Even amidst personal and family trials, Elaine has shown a remarkable ability to see to the needs of others above her own. As a tribute to her mother, Elaine’s daughter Susan said, “My mother is the most highly spiritual woman I know. She turns to the gospel for answers at every juncture. She lives it every day and applies its principles in every situation. As a mother she was absolutely firm in her commitment to do it the Lord’s way. She gave us, therefore, the greatest gift a mother can give—she loved us enough to thoroughly teach us the gospel of Jesus Christ.”

With her love for writing, it’s certain that only a very special project would cause Elaine to give up her daily newspaper column. Since 1959 Elaine had been the associate editor along with Marion D. Hanks of an “Era for Youth” section in the Church’s Improvement Era. The popularity of this section led Elaine to begin work to propose a church magazine specifically for the youth. In 1971 the New Era began its publication, and Elaine gave up her column to aid its establishment.

In 1978 Elaine Cannon was called to serve as general president of the Young Women organization of the LDS church by President Spencer W. Kimball. Elaine pledged to rely upon the Lord, saying, “I am very much aware that this is not my program, and so I must always try to know what the Lord wants me to do.”

Under the leadership theme “Prepare to Perform,” the Young Women general board worked to simplify and focus the Young Women program and to be sensitive to the needs of individual members.

Her influence not limited to the Church, Elaine served with the International Council of Women and as the vice president of the National Council of Women. She was honored by this group for “her ability to communicate with young people and their families without losing her role as representative of old-fashioned, solid values.”

Elaine listened carefully to women who were struggling over the Equal Rights Amendment discussions. She cared about the debate and the people. It was during this time that Elaine wrote her famous line of testimony and commitment, even in the face of so much turmoil: “When the Prophet speaks, the debate is over.” This is the kind of commitment to her church and to the Lord that has characterized Elaine’s life of devotion and service.

In some advice to his daughter, Elaine’s father once told her, “To love is to live. To be loved in return is God’s gift. Think about loving, Elaine, not being loved. One day the richest kind of gift will be yours.” In recognition of one who has exemplified this principle throughout all her endeavors, Brigham Young University is honored to present this Presidential Citation and Medallion to Elaine Anderson Cannon.

PRESIDENTIAL CITATION

Milton A. Barlow

Milton A. Barlow has had a distinguished and successful career in business and Church activities during the 60 years he has lived in the Metropolitan Washington area.

After graduating from LDS High School in Salt Lake City in 1929, Milton Barlow spent three years in the German-Austrian Mission. Upon release, he moved to the Washington, D.C., area to work with the government in the daytime to enable him to earn his college degree from the George Washington University. He then went on to the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in Boston, Massachusetts. After finishing his graduate studies, he spent a year with the Cleveland Trust Company in Cleveland, Ohio, before joining the Marriott organization as corporate secretary and treasurer in 1941. At the Marriott Corporation, Milton Barlow served 23 years as a senior executive, helping them move from a sales volume in 1940 of $3.7 million to a volume of approximately $90 million when he resigned in 1963. He became the executive vice president of the company in 1953, handling the first public offering of the Marriott Corporation stock that same year, and became chief executive officer of the corporation in 1956 after the opening of the first Marriott Hotel. He was the active force in the development of the motor hotel operations in the Marriott organization and completed the construction of five motor hotels—two in Metropolitan Washington, one in Dallas, one in Philadelphia, and one in Atlanta.

Although he had 23 years of close, friendly, and successful business experience with the Marriott family in the growth and development that had occurred, he concluded that his greater opportunity lay in establishing his own business. He terminated his employment with Marriott Corporation on January 31, 1964, and on February 4, 1964, started the construction of his own 19-story, class-A office building, which at the time was the tallest office building in Metropolitan Washington. He thus launched his own career in real estate development.

In 1966 he completed the construction of an 815-unit apartment complex in Chevy Chase, Maryland, and had acquired other land for development in Montgomery County, Maryland. In 1979 he completed the construction of his second office building. His third major office complex was completed in 1984. During these years he developed three carwash stations and two health club facilities on properties he expected to develop into office and apartment facilities at an appropriate time.

Milton Barlow's Church activities during these periods consisted of serving in the bishopric of the Washington, D.C., ward from 1941 until 1957. During these years he served as a counselor to the mission president of the Mid-Atlantic Mission. In 1975 he was called as mission president of the New York Rochester Mission. He directed the operation of three Hill Cumorah pageants at Palmyra, New York, before being released in 1978. In 1979 he acquired for the Church the building on Main Street of Palmyra where the Book of Mormon was first published. He also participated in the restoration of the log cabin on the Peter Whitmer farm in Fayette, New York. This was the site at which the Church was organized on April 6, 1830, and from which President Kimball conducted the 150th General Conference Anniversary in April 1980.

In 1983 Milton and his wife, Gloria, established the Milton A. and Gloria G. Barlow Endowment for the Composition of Music at Brigham Young University. Three years later, in 1986, they established the Milton A. and Gloria G. Barlow Family Foundation, which has participated in the building of the new Museum of Art.

In 1993 Milton Barlow funded the acquisition of a 13-rank Draker Pipe Organ at Dixie College in St. George in commemoration of his wife, Gloria G. Barlow, who passed away on December 1, 1992.

Milton Barlow has served as president and member of the board of trustees of the Washington Hospital Center. He also served on the boards of the Marriott Corporation, the Diversified Education and Research Corporation, the Washington Chapter of the American Red Cross, and as a member of the Washington Council Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts of America.

For his lifetime of service and accomplishment, Brigham Young University is proud to honor Milton Barlow with the Presidential Citation and Medallion.

PRESIDENTIAL CITATION

Alma P. and Clea M. Burton

Alma Pexton Burton and Clea Morgan Burton are people of unusual accomplishment. They have traveled extensively throughout the Western Hemisphere, Europe, and the Middle East on assignment with the Church Educational System and have functioned in many responsible positions in Church, educational, and civic circles. Action characterizes their lives.

Born in Nephi, Utah, Alma was one of six children of Thomas Hyrum Burton and May Pexton. He spent his early life in Nephi, and as a young man played the trombone in a dance band. He participated in tennis and track while in high school and later took up golf. Alma received a bachelor's degree in education from Utah State Agricultural College, a master's degree in history from Brigham Young University, and a doctor of education degree from the University of Utah.

Clea was born in Liberty, Idaho, one of eight children of John and Ethel Rich Morgan. Her mother was a descendant of Elder Charles C. Rich, who was sent by the Brethren to settle the Bear Lake Valley. Clea graduated from Logan High School and received a bachelor's degree in child development from Utah State Agricultural College. She did further study toward a master's degree in the same subject while teaching on a fellowship in the nursery-school program at Utah State. Later she did graduate work at Brigham Young University. She also taught in the public school systems at Coalville and in Salt Lake City. Clea had prepared herself for a public education career, but then she married Alma and gave first priority to being a full-time wife and mother. Clea has filled Church callings on the stake and ward level in Relief Society and MIA, as well as serving a full-time mission and 10 years as an ordinance worker in the Provo Temple and three years as Manti Temple matron.

Both church and educational service have been constant activities through the years for Alma and Clea and given them experience in many areas. Alma filled a full-time mission to the central states and has been a MIA general board member, Sharon Stake high councilor, a member of the Church general priesthood home teaching committee, and president of the Sharon Stake in Orem, Utah. Civic positions have included being charter president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Nephi and serving as charter member on the board of directors of the Orem Kiwanis Club.

Alma's wide professional and executive experience includes being assistant manager of J. C. Penney Company in Nephi, executive secretary of the Logan division office of Utah Oil Refining Company, and assistant to the purchasing agent for Utah State University. He began his public school teaching in 1948 at Fielding High School in Paris, Idaho, as an instructor in commercial skills. He was a faculty member of the College of Religious Instruction at Brigham Young University from 1948–1954 (during which time he was secretary to Hugh B. Brown and Sidney B. Sperry). Then came service for five years as superintendent of Alpine School District with headquarters in American Fork, Utah. This was followed by three years as dean of Admissions and Records at Brigham Young University. From this latter position he was selected by Church Schools administrator William E. Berrett to be an assistant administrator of seminaries and institutes of religion, a post he held for nine years. During these years Alma and Clea traveled throughout much of the world giving counsel, speaking, and administering in the Church Educational System. As an administrator of seminaries and institutes, Alma repeatedly encouraged the teachers to pursue advanced degrees to better qualify themselves and showed them that doors of opportunity open to those who are prepared. From 1970–1978 Alma was, for a second time, a professor of Church history and doctrine at BYU, until his retirement from the university in 1978. This also included teaching one year at BYU—Hawaii.

Formal retirement, however, did not mean inactivity. Soon after leaving full-time service at BYU, Alma and Clea were called as directors of the visitors' center in Independence, Missouri, for three years. After returning to Utah, Alma was appointed president of the Utah Valley Branch Genealogical Volunteer Program, and subsequently he and Clea were called as president and matron of the Manti Temple, where they served from 1985 to 1988.

Alma's foremost scholarly interests have been in the history and doctrine of the Church, particularly the life and teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith. In addition to being a classroom teacher of thousands of students, and a public speaker, he has written extensively. Notable among his writings are Discourses of the Prophet Joseph Smith; Understanding the Things of God; Mormon Trails from Vermont to Utah; Karl G. Maeser: Mormon

Educator; Toward the New Jerusalem; Stories from Mormon History (coauthored with Clea); For They Shall Be Comforted (coauthored with Clea); and three volumes of Readings in LDS Church History (coauthored with William E. Berrett). In 1988 Alma and Clea assisted in the production of a 172-page book commemorating the hundred-year history of the Manti Temple. In 1992 Alma authored three articles for the Encyclopedia of Mormonism. Alma has also written many articles for Church periodicals and lesson manuals. Concerning Alma's book about Karl G. Maeser, BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson wrote in the preface:

We are indebted to Alma P. Burton for this inspiring story of Karl G. Maeser. While born after Brother Maeser had gone, Brother Burton like hundreds of others, heard the story of Brother Maeser's life from his parents, and now by this book has preserved it for the posterity of the Saints. Thousands of former and future students and friends of the Brigham Young University will thank him for his inspiring contribution.

No man could do so well in so many fields of endeavor without the assistance of a capable and faithful wife. Co-workers with Alma have often heard him give credit to Clea for his successes. Assisted by his wife in organizing and conducting the first LDS Church history tour from Brigham Young University in 1951, they conducted similar tours in 1952 and 1953. Such tours have now become regular university events.

Alma speaks often of the love and appreciation he has for Clea and for their five children—Barbara, David, Ann, John, and James. They are all diligent in Church activity and devoted to their parents. All five children and their spouses attended Brigham Young University; five of these are graduates of BYU, and several have attained advanced academic degrees. Alma and Clea have 25 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Family is their greatest joy and is always of first importance in all they do.

Alma and Clea Burton have given of themselves educationally, ecclesiastically, and civically. Their experience, service, and testimony have benefited many and will continue to carry them forward as ambassadors of the gospel of Jesus Christ and representatives of the worldwide Church Educational System. Brigham Young University is pleased to recognize the exemplary lives of Alma and Clea Burton and to present them with this Presidential Citation and Medallion.

Commencement Speaker

Truman G. Madsen

Truman G. Madsen, one of the most loved and respected scholars within the Latter-day Saint community, was born in Salt Lake City. He served in the New England Mission and later returned with his wife and companion, Ann Nicholls Madsen, to preside as president. Truman and Ann have raised three children and a Native American foster son. They have been blessed with 15 grandchildren. In addition to his call as mission president, Truman has served in the Church as a bishop and as the vice chair of the Adult Committee of the Sunday School General Board. After a lifetime of commitment to church and university, he recently returned from serving as director of BYU's Jerusalem Center for Near Eastern Studies.

Truman Madsen graduated with honors in speech and philosophy from the University of Utah and received his MS in philosophy from that same institution a year later. He received an MA and PhD from Harvard University in the history and philosophy of religion. He has taught at Harvard, Northeastern University in Boston, the Graduate Theological Union, University of California at Berkeley, and was guest professor at Haifa University in Israel.

At BYU, Truman Madsen is perhaps best known as a master teacher. His insights, expressed in his unique style, have motivated hundreds and thousands of students toward a faith that is as satisfying to the mind as it is to the heart. He received the Honors Professor of the Year Award in 1966, the Karl G. Maeser Distinguished Teacher Award in 1967, and was selected as the BYU Professor of the Year in 1972. He was also director of Judaeo-Christian Studies in the Religious Studies Center and of the Institute of Mormon Studies. Recently, Truman was appointed one of the editors of Macmillan's Encyclopedia of Mormonism.

Truman Madsen is also known as one of the Church's and university's finest ambassadors, occupying for twenty years the Richard L. Evans Endowed Chair of Christian Understanding. In that capacity, he was assigned by President Harold B. Lee to bring distinguished scholars and educators of other faiths to Brigham Young University. As President Lee observed, it is one thing for Truman to take a spark out into the academic and religious world, but quite another to expose others to the committed community that is BYU. He has done both superbly.

Truman served for six years as the vice chair of the Public Activities Committee of the National Endowment for the Humanities. He has guest lectured with noted thinkers from all over the world. He has invited leading scholars to the campus, resulting frequently in special lecture series and symposia, and has contributed to and edited monographs of these proceedings, such as Reflections on Mormonism, The Temple in Antiquity, and Religion and Law.

As an author, Truman Madsen's works range from technical studies in his field to the popular pieces addressed to youth and the Church in general through The Instructor, The Ensign, The New Era, and BYU Studies. His book titles include Eternal Man (1967); Four Essays on Love (1969); Christ and the Inner Life (1970); The Highest in Us (1978); Defender of the Faith (1980), a biography of Elder B. H. Roberts; and Joseph Smith the Prophet (1989). In recent years he has worked on a book tentatively titled Judaism and Mormonism: Ideological Parallels.

In conclusion, it seems appropriate to note that the life and labors of Truman G. Madsen symbolize what Brigham Young University stands for and seeks to instill in its students—the clear witness that the blending of mind and heart, of intellect and soul, of reason and revelation, is not only possible but central to our faith and our way of life.
